

The Just Jesus Bible Study has changed my walk with the Lord.

In sharing with Lindsey last week, I now get up about 5:50 every morning to do the study. So it's gotten me started daily being able to get up early to do my study. I couldn't wait to get downstairs to do it.

It got to the point that my husband (we walk every day) said, "Can we go now?" I answered, "No, give me, give me five more minutes. I've got another chapter . . . another scripture to look up." So, it, it's so exciting that I just don't want to even leave it! I could do the whole, you know, sit down all day and do the whole study, but I have to stop myself.

It's been . . . incredible! I think I've grown immensely. Even just by copying down the scripture as opposed to only reading it. I read it, then write it down, so it's really helping it stick for me and, I hope I'm walking a little bit better in the Word because of it.
